

Please ignore the banks attempt to weaken the laws governing telephone privacy. I understand why these institutions would want to create a way to market their services to an existing customer, but I feel strongly that the FCC should encourage these organizations to find other, less intrusive ways to contact existing/potential customer about potential products. Please do all you can to ensure the citizens of Indiana protect our privacy.